Overcoming the COVID 19 crisis as a united power

Since March 13, Gijang has been doing its best to prevent community infections, including thorough self-isolation for residents who have arrived from overseas and providing advice on undergoing diagnostic tests. On February 24, Gijang held a COVID 19 response meeting and is maintaining an emergency work system. The number of quarantine workers has been increased from 19 to 79, and intensive disinfection is being carried out at public facilities such as the Donghae Line and Subway Line 4 stations, public parking lots, and Gijang Market, public toilets and bus stops and local education institutions. The Dongbusan Branch of Lotte Premium Outlets and the Ikea Dongbusan Branch areas are being disinfected by the Army's 53 Division, 5-6 times a day, three times a week. Residents are sharing warm stories to overcome COVID 19. The Gijang Volunteer Center is providing support in the form of 4 to 9 volunteers every day at the mask factory in the area, where there is a shortage of labor, and Gijang County public servants are also participating in volunteering.

Gijang : Issuance of electronic certificates expanded to 13 types

The issuance of electronic certificates, which was previously only available for resident registration and certificate of registered particulars, is now available for 13 types of documents. The issuance of electronic certificates is an administrative service that allows you to issue various kinds of civil affair documents with your smartphone anytime and anywhere. To issue an electronic certificate, access the "Government 24" (GOV.KR) website through your smartphone and obtain an electronic document wallet. Select the method of receipt as 'electronic document wallet' when applying for a certificate. There are 13 available electronic certificates including immigration certificate, local tax payment certificate and vaccination certificate, and plans are in place to expand availability to 100 types by the end of this year.

Have fun with board games at home

Board games are an ideal way to have fun when you need to stay home due to COVID 19. Board games are played by placing cards and such on a board and following certain rules. In 2017, members who attended classes at Gijang Residents School formed a club called 'Board Game Love'. The club's recommended games include strategy games such as chess, Blokus, and Gemblo, while Chicken chaja and Pengoloo are good for improving memory. Abalone and Ubongo can help improve spatial perception.
